Plaintiffs,

v.

EDRIVER, INC., ONLINE GURU,
INC., FIND MY SPECIALIST, INC.,
and SERIOUSNET, INC., California corporations, RAVI K. LAHOTI, an individual; RAJ LAHOTI, an individual;
DOES 1 through 10,

Defendants.

Case No: CV 06-7561 PA (CWx)

DECLARATION OF RAJ LAHOTI
IN SUPPORT OF DEFENDANTS'
POSITION IN JOINT STATUS REPORT

JUDGE: Hon. Percy Anderson
COURTROOM: 15

I, Raj Lahoti, declare:

1. I am the co-founder and Chairman of defendant OnlineGURU Inc., the company that manages the website <http://www.dmv.org/> ("dmv.org."). I am also a named individual defendant in this matter. I have personal knowledge of the facts set forth herein and, if called upon to testify, could and would competently testify thereto.

Home page designs of dmv.org

2. Attached hereto as Exhibit A is a true and correct copy of a screen

1 shot of dmv.org's current home page design as of the date of this declaration.

2 3. Attached hereto as Exhibit B is a true and correct copy of a screen
3 shot of dmv.org's home page design in November 2006.

4 Marketing and Redesign Contest

5 4. Attached hereto as Exhibit C is a true and correct copy of the website
6 <http://www.google.com/> after running a search with the terms "California DMV"
7 as of September 1, 2011.

8 5. Attached hereto as Exhibit D is a true and correct copy of a screen
9 shot of dmv.org's redesign contest that was run from August 5-15, 2011. As the 10 screenshot indicates, the contest, which was open and announced to the public,
11 requested submissions of website designs for a "completely different look and feel 12 for the new DMV.org site." The submitted designs were also required NOT to 13 "use any government insignia, official seals, or anything that would give the 14 impression that this is a government site." The contestants were advised that 15 dmv.org was "happy to be non-governmental and look friendly."

16 Contact Form

17 6. Attached hereto as Exhibit E is a true and correct copy of a screen
18 shot of dmv.org's current "contact form" as of the date of this declaration.

19 7. Attached hereto as Exhibit F is a true and correct copy of a screen shot
20 of dmv.org's "contact form" in November 2006.

21 Dmv.org's Facebook page

22 8. Dmv.org has a Facebook page
23 (<http://www.facebook.com/#!/DMV.org>). Facebook is a third party platform
24 separate and distinct from dmv.org, on which Facebook users can post comments
25 to the "Wall." Dmv.org removes postings from public view on its Facebook page 26 for a variety of reasons. These reasons include (1) that the comments are 27 disparaging to dmv.org and/or offensive and harmful, or (2) the comments would 28 perpetuate consumer confusion and potentially cause other users to become

1 confused, such as when the comments appear to be complaints addressed to a
2 Department of Motor Vehicles.

3 9. With respect to its Facebook page, dmV.org believes it is responsible
4 to remove comments that are potentially offensive and/or perpetuate or foster
5 consumer confusion.

6 I declare under penalty of perjury that the foregoing is true and correct and 7 that I executed this declaration on September 6, 2011, at San Diego, California.

The Unofficial DMV Guide

DMV.org is a privately owned organization that simplifies government-related info across all states. We created this mega-resource not because we love the DMV, but because we grew tired of standing in long lines at the motor vehicle agencies. In addition to gathering the most accurate information, we cut to the chase and offer our users easy-to-understand, useful details on handling DMV-related business. This includes what you need to know for applying for a driver's license, renewing your vehicle registration, obtaining your driving record and much more.

The coolest thing we do involves utilizing the latest technology to create a positive user experience. We're not even government employees. In fact, we are technology idealists who want to make the Web a better space. Our team thrives on problem solving, innovating and collectively coming up with online tools that give our users the best resource on the Web. Want to save time and skip the hassle? Check out DMV.org and let us know what you think.

New Look, New Content.
We are extremely pleased to announce the launch of our newly designed and updated content at DMV.ORG. No longer do you have to wade through complicated governmental jargon to figure out how to accomplish your DMV transactions. We provide all the details specific to your state. We are proud of these changes, but you can help us improve our site all the more. It's easy; just send us your thoughts and comments through our suggestion box. Spend some time, look around; we think you'll be glad you did.

All drivers need protection against the possibility of being involved in a car accident. Car insurance is the most common method of protecting yourself against having to pay for costly repair bills or paying for property damage and hospital costs. Whether you have carried insurance for years, or you are just learning about the world of auto insurance, you'll find helpful information that will enable you to make wise decisions when it comes to buying insurance. We bring you the state regulations regarding required coverage and we have partnered with some of the very best in the business to bring you great rates for all your insurance needs.

We know you love your car, so we've put together a lot of articles to help you learn more about taking care of your vehicle. Not interested in learning how to change your oil? Well, then maybe you'd rather learn how to stock your RV for a long trip, find out how to plan your upcoming road trip, or where to stop along the way to take in all the kitschy roadside attractions that dot our highways and byways. New How-To articles will be added on a regular basis so if you don't see the topic you want to research, keep checking back from time to time.

OK, you've found out what you need to do to take care of that DMV business: you've downloaded all the forms you need to take to the DMV; and you've made an appointment online and found out how to get to the nearest DMV office. So now what? How about having some car-related fun? Because life can't just be about paperwork and standing in long lines, we offer you some fun and games related to cars and driving. Reading about some of the bizarre laws related to driving is sure to leave you shaking your head, while this is a fun way to learn more about the rules of the road to prepare you for the next cut-throat game of Trivial Pursuit. An eclectic mix of fun stuff is offered on these pages, from why you might want to join an antique car club to profiles of current NASCAR stars to links to Web sites that feature interesting license plates. Relax, enjoy, and take a spin through our Fun Stuff.

Our DMV Guide provides you with all the information you could possibly need from the Department of Motor Vehicles office—and much more. All the details on driver's licenses, driving records and ID cards, as well as vehicle registrations, title transfers, bills of sale and smog checks, are all available right here.

DMV.ORG also offers information you wouldn't think of getting from the Department of Motor Vehicles. You'll find great rates on auto insurance, ways to order a vehicle history report, and links to buying and selling cars—used and new. Got a traffic ticket? DMV.ORG also teaches you about online traffic schools, as well as driver's ed courses for new drivers. You can also rely on DMV.ORG for information on Lemon Laws and important updates on safety recalls. We bring you the most up-to-date information and services as they become available.

Why waste your time in line at the DMV when you can find all your answers about drivers, cars, driving, and the regulations you need to follow in your own state, all on one comprehensive Web site? Welcome to DMV.ORG.

Description of business DMV.org is "The Unofficial DMV Guide". DMV.org has been helping users navigate the DMV since 1999 by providing an easy to use interface and allowing users to find/access information about the DMV and general motor vehicle and automotive information specific in their state.

Existing website <http://www.dmv.org>

Number of pages 1

As you can see from the attached wireframe and logo concept, we are going with a completely different look and feel for the new DMV.org site.

Websites for inspiration I like mint.com because it makes me want to work with them and sign up.
I like the way about.com uses colors and imagery
I like causes.com for the colors, how they pop out, and the site makes me feel good
I like the use of colors and style at marthastewart.com
I like webmd.com
I like dummies.com because it is fun, friendly, but still a trusted resource.

Further requirements We have attached the wireframe that we want to use.
The attached logo is something we were thinking of... but because the CAR and the Happy Face are elements that we "DON'T" have the rights to, please come up with a new design for this to incorporate onto the homepage design.
Do NOT use the license plate logo on the current DMV.org site. We are looking for a completely new and fresh look for the new site. We would like to stick with a similar color palette on the DMV.org site, but we are open to some creative freedom on this.
Please note: do not use any government insignia, official seals, or anything that would give the impression that this is a government site. We are happy to be non-governmental and look friendly.

Payment methods This contest has been pre-paid with 99designs. The winner will be paid directly by 99designs for the full prize amount, excluding any third party transfer fees.

- Paypal (free, 2-3 day payment turnaround)
